SOCIAL GOOD

Rangoli art, in its ephemeral form, is highly practiced in rural India daily, specially by women and girls, who draw rangoli in front of their house's everyday morning and evening. It comes very naturally to them, without any formal education in math or geometry. We aim to train rural women artisans on creation of "Soulart Rangolis", through CSR initiatives in order to help them generate a livelihood options.

Rangoli

Rangoli (Rang- Colour, Aavalli - Rows of Colours) is a Sanskrit word which means "a creative expression of art through the use of colours". It is an ancient art form, originated in the Indian subcontinent thousands of years ago, in which various patterns or motifs are created on the floor or the ground using house-hold materials, to welcome the guests and bring in positive vibrations.
